

John FULLER (1789-1868) and daughter Susannah FULLER (1846-1870)

John paid his own fare on the 'Trade Wind' arriving in Tasmania in 1858. He was aged 68, born about 1790, and a farmer. John was accompanied by his daughter Susannah, who was aged 11. Martha Ann Bond (1839-1895) and Sarah Ann Bond (1840-1934), who were also passengers on the 'Trade Wind', were his step-daughters. See separate entries for Martha and Sarah.

In the 1851 England Census for Ixworth, Suffolk John was aged 61, born about 1790 at Ixworth, Suffolk, a cattle dealer; Sarah, John's wife, aged 33, born Shropham, Norfolk in about 1818 (previously Bond); Martha Ann Bond, step-daughter, aged 11, a scholar born Stanton, Suffolk; and, Susannah, John's daughter, aged three, born Thorpe by Ixworth, Suffolk. They were living at Upper Farm, Thorpe by Ixworth, Suffolk. John and Sarah married in Quarter 4 1845 in Thingoe, Suffolk. It is probable John's wife, Sarah, died late in 1853 in Thingoe, Suffolk.

John and daughter Susannah were discharged from the Quarantine Station at Impression Bay to Messrs Crear from Clyne Park on 15 April 1858. Step-daughter, Sarah Ann Bond, was sponsored by Michael Fenton of Hobart Town and also discharged from the Quarantine Station on the same day to Messrs Crear from Clyne Park, probably James Crear, RN (1820-1867) from Clynevale near Cleveland. James Crear, RN, was the commander of the Leith Australian Company's ship the 'Triton' before settling in Tasmania.

Susannah was aged 11 when migrating. She was literate and a nursemaid. Although she was sponsored by William Hamilton of Hobart Town she was discharged from the Quarantine Station with her father to Messrs Crear. At an inquest into the death on 13 July 1863 of Edward Hall, Susannah Fuller was sworn in at 'Clynevale', the residence of Mr Crear, as a witness. She said she was in the service of Mrs Crear and the deceased had been her fellow servant for the last 13 months; he was a groom.

Susannah married Charles Wise on 20 August 1865 at Longford, Tasmania. They had one daughter, Sarah Jane Wise born 1867 in South Yarra, Victoria. She died on 18 September 1937 in Dunedin, New Zealand. Susannah died in Victoria, aged 23, in 1870. Her parents names on the death registration were shown as John Fuller and Martha (Martha was her step-sister). Her husband, Charles, who was born in 1844 in England, died in 1930 in Victoria.

John Fuller passed away in Victoria in 1869.
